4. PROPOSALS

4.1 EMA Council Proposal of a New Constitution
The President gave the floor to Pierre Weiss who as accepted (as he did for the WMA) to act as a legal adviser and to reflect on the changes which had to be made in the EMA legal documents. Indeed, the current Statutes (even amended three times since its creation) has been written in 2004 and the By Laws approved by the 2008 Congress in Ljubljana.

Pierre Weiss explained that to have two documents (Statutes and By Laws) was maybe not the best situation: it creates confusion when someone is looking for a specific clause and does not know where to find it! Furthermore, it was found out that some clauses of the By Laws were in contradiction with the Statutes itself. The study which was conducted concluded also that some basic topics were neither in the Statutes, nor in the By Laws.

During its meeting in Basel in December 2014, the Council came to the conclusion that a single document would be the best option! It would be longer of course, but will be far much more clear to understand and more coherent. Several versions were circulated in the last 18 months amongst the EMA Council members, bearing in mind that the new EMA Statutes has to

- take advantage of the experience of the IAAF Statutes,
• be in line with the WMA Statutes approved by the August 2015 WMA Congress in Lyons
• to be in compliance with the Swiss Law (Code Civil Suisse), the EMA Headquarters being located in Lausanne.

In December 2015, EMA had circulated the text to all its National members (with even a slightly amended version on 2nd March 2016).

In fact there were no major changes; the additional clauses were clarifying the issues of
• Membership: affiliation procedure, termination of membership ... (section C)
• organisation of the General Assemblies: nomination of the delegates, quorum, requested majorities ... (section D)
• vacancies on the Council ... EMA dissolution ... Dispute ... matters

Pierre Weiss also explained to the Congress why the words “Elections and” at the start of the clause 12.12 had to be deleted.

Came then a long debate regarding the “auditors”! It was first agreed to add “including minutes of the EMA Council Meetings!” in the clause 24.4.

Then came the question on who should be auditors (clause 24.1): two people nominated by the Congress? or an “independent professional auditor”? It was agreed that the use of an independent professional auditor (whose choice was in the hands of the Council – clause 17.2.29) was a real benefit for the association and had the merit to guarantee the accuracy of the EMA Finances on the accounting aspect. But several Delegates took the floor to insist on keeping the “auditors nominated by the Congress within representatives of the Federations” having therefore a possibility to judge if the finances were handled in line with the Congress decision! The proposal by Vesa Lapalainen (Delegate of Finland) to give to the auditors the right to judge the general administration of EMA was not agreed; another Delegate suggested that EMA should create a “Governance Commission” which would have this authority: to be discussed in the future.

At the end of the discussion, there were two options: only one professional auditor or a combination between this professional auditor and two auditors appointed by the Council. A vote was held and, by 27 to 25, the second option was chosen.

Finally, based on the comments made by Artur Kimber, delegate of Great Britain, the Congress approved that the text of the new Statutes should be revised in order to have a perfect English text, as IAAF does with the clause 4.45 of its own Constitution.

To conclude, Pierre Weiss indicated that the next steps were!
• Approval of the Statutes by the 2016 EMA Congress in Ancona
• Registration by the EMA Council of this text to the “Registre du Commerce du Canton de Vaud” in Lausanne, Switzerland
• Approval of the text by the Swiss authorities

The Congress took the following decisions (all unanimously with one exception detailed above or the clause 24.1)
• to approve the changes discussed during the Council in the clauses 12.12, 24.1 and 24.4 (as well as the consequent changes in other clauses)
• to give mandate to the Council to improve the quality of the English ("editorial amendments") based on the IAAF Statutes clause 4.5
• to approve the amended text
• to give mandate to the Council to register this text in Switzerland
• to agree that this text will come into force as soon as the Swiss Authorities will have accept it
• to consider then, as non valid anymore, the current EMA Statutes and EMA By Laws
